Handicapped by the holidays, last week's realty market failed to equal the good showing of its predecessor. The sales at private contract were generally unimportant and few in number and business in the auction room was practically at a standstill. This general dullness is characteristic of the September market as well as the trading during the summer months, and has been discounted by seasoned

There were few features of the transactions at private contract worth extended comment. The only sale of any importance was that o the Furniss properties on West End avenue and even in this case the whole truth is not yet known, so no estimate can be made of the true saring of the sale on the market. The sale of the block front of lots, eight in number, on West End avenue, between 100th and 101st streets, was reported some time ago and was denied immediately. This transaction is now admitted to have been made, and it is generally believed that it was held back at the time in order to facilitate the further sale of lots adjoining on both 100th and 101st streets. This is now reported closed, so inferentially twenty-six lots, eight on West End avenue, nine each on 100th and 101st streets, are to be reported as sold. The buyers are Kempner Brothers, and the improvements will take the form of apartment houses Sophia R. C. Furniss, the owner of the property, is said to have held it at $500,000, but it is doubtful if the actual purchase price was within many thousands of that sum. As for the other sales by brokers, they were usually of small dwellings and other properties consistent with the demands of the season. Few sales of magnitude are rumored for the immediate future, but there is one large deal in lower East Side dwellings which is nearing comple tion and should be reported shortly.

The auction room, as said, was partially inoperative. In the small number of sales con summated there was only one point of interest. This was the presence of outsiders in the bidding. The most important sale made was of the three eight-story apartment houses on upper West End avenue. They were secured, supposedly, by an outsider. The current week promises very little activity in the salesroom Monday is without a scheduled sale and the offerings for the other days of the week are few in number. There is little hope that conditions will be better until Oct. 1 at the earliest. A number of legal and voluntary sales are scheduled and will be held during the first days of the month. These will probably mark the real opening of the auction business.

The suburban real estate owners have enjoyed a fairly prosperous summer's trade, and reports have it that the season is not yet at an end. One of the latest tracts to be opened up to outside buying is that lying along the Hudson, on the Palisades, opposite Grant's Mounment. The property is highly restricted against nuisances of all kinds and is improved. It represents really the first step in the residential development of that section, and its success will be the signal for an appreciable movement along similar lines. The new suburb is known as Grantwood.

orude low grade ore in the Hope mine is $8 per ton. This ore will concentrate six into one, which will make the value of the concentrates $45 to $50 per ton. A contract for the treatment of the crude ore of the Basin Gold & Copper Mining Company will be made with the Katle Company, which has just completed a new concentrating mill and smelter costing about $500,000. The Katle mine adjoins the Hope on each end of the lines. This arrangement will enable the Hope to concentrate its ores, pending the construction of its own plant.

WILLIAM H. WADE DROWNED.

Young Mechanical Engineer Well Known in the South, Loses His Life While Bathing. RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 9. William Harvie Vade, a well known mechanical engineer, was drowned in the surf at Wrightsville Beach, N. C. this morning. He was the guest of the Mesers. McRae, proprietors of the Wilmington Cotton Mill at their cottage at the Beach. He was in the surf bathing with them at the time, and was swept away to sea by the undertow. His body was east up on the beach six hours later within seventy five feet of the place where he was drowned. Wade was thirty-three years ald, and formerly lived in this city. He recently spent three years in Europe in the employment of various construction companies. He was a man of means and had just secured a controlling interest in the Wilmington gas plant. He is a brother of Dr. Wade, of Richmond, and has a sister residing in New York. The remains will be brought her for burial.

HIGGINS CARPET FACTORY SOLDS

Report That Kidder, Peabody & Co. of Boston Have Acquired the Plant. A report was widely circulated yesterday to the effect that the factory of the E. S. Higgins Carnet Company, one of the largest in this ountry, had been purchased by Kidder, Peabody & Co., the well-known Boston firm. The report had it that the sale was closed and every detail concerning the transfer of the property

All the members of the firm of Baring. Magoun & Co. of 15 Wall street, the local agents of Kidder, Peabody & Co., were out of town yesterday. O. M. Beach, at the Higgins Company's office, told a Sun reporter that the report was not true. There is no foundation or it, he declared.

The Higgins Company is incorporated in New Jersey with a capital stock of $2,000,000. Its factory is at 600 West Forty-third street.

STOPPED BY TOO MUCH BUSINESS.

Paper Dealers Could'nt Get any Paper From the Overworked Mills. The William Wilkinson Company, wholesale dealers in paper and twine at 78 Duane street, has made an assignment to John A. Lee of Cranford, N. J. William Wilkinson is President and Rudolph F. Bell Secretary. The company was incorporated on March 4 last, with a capital stock of $30,000. J. T. Hard, attorney for tal stock of $30,000. J. T. Bard, attorney for Mr. Wilkinson, said that the company is going to reorganize and that every creditor would be paid in full. The company had too much business, he said, and could not fill orders. From other sources it was learned that the mills are so busy that the company could not get its orders filled quickly. It takes several months to get the goods. Meanwhile expenses are going on and the company has not the ready money necessary for a large business.

Workmen Slightly Burned in a Factory Fire A slight fire occurred early yesterday afternoon in the shoelast factory of The Stewart & Potter Company at 191 and 193 Worth street. In extinguishing it two of the workmen, Robert Reed and Joseph Marsh, were slightly burned. The firemen were summoned, but the fire was put out before they arrived.
